

Worksheet 10 – Nuisance

Noise, exhaust emissions, engine malfunction indicator lamp (MIL) (sometimes called an engine management light or 'EML'), and fluid leak rules and inspection for car and passenger vehicle MOT tests

Sub-sections

- 8.1 Noise
- 8.2 Exhaust emissions
- 8.4 Other environmental items

Number	Question	Answer
8.1	When carrying out an emissions test you should rev the engine to around which of these? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 2000rpm • 2500rpm • 3000rpm • 2750rpm
8.2.2	You will need to inspect MIL fitted to diesel vehicles with 4 or more wheels and first used on or after which date?
8.4.1	You should fail a vehicle if a fluid leak creates a pool on the floor within 5 minutes if the diameter is more than how big? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 50mm • 75mm • 80mm • 100mm 	